Instructions

Only a contractor who has a valid Certificate of Authority issued by the Tax Department may use this exemption certificate. The contractor must present a properly completed certificate to the vendor to purchase tangible personal property, or to a subcontractor to purchase services tax exempt. This certificate is not valid unless all entries have been completed.

The contractor may use this certificate to claim an exemption from sales or use tax on tangible personal property or services that will be used in the manner specified in items A through M below. The contractor may not use this certificate to purchase tangible personal property or services tax exempt on the basis that Form ST-124, Certificate of Capital Improvement, has been furnished by the project owner to the contractor. The contractor must use a separate Form ST-120.1, Contractor Exempt Purchase Certificate, for each project.

Purchase orders showing an exemption from the sales or use tax based on this certificate must contain the address of the project where the property will be used, as well as the name and address of the project owners (see page 1 of this form). Invoices and sales or delivery slips must also contain this information (name and address of the project for which the exempt purchases will be used or where the exempt services will be rendered, as shown on page 1 of this form).

Use of the certificate

This certificate may be used by a contractor to claim exemption from tax only on purchases of tangible personal property that is:

- A. Incorporated into real property under the terms of a contract entered into with an exempt organization that has furnished the contractor with a copy of Form ST-119.1, Exempt Organization Certification, governmental purchase order, or voucher.
- B. Incorporated into real property and is production machinery or equipment for which the customer has given the contractor a copy of Form ST-121, Exempt Use Certificate.
- C. Used in one of the following situations:
 - Machinery, equipment, and other tangible personal property related to providing Web site services for sale to be installed in an Internet data center. (Examples of qualifying machinery, equipment, and tangible personal property include: computer system hardware, pre-written software, storage racks for computers, property relating to building systems designed for an Internet data center such as interior fiber optic and copper cable, property necessary to maintain the proper temperature and environment such as air filtration and air conditioning, property related to fire control, power generators, protective barriers, property that when installed will constitute raised flooring, and property related to providing security to the center.) The customer must furnish the contractor a completed Form ST-121.5, Exempt Use Certificate for Operators of Internet Data Centers (Web Hosting).
 - Tangible personal property used directly and predominantly in the receiving, initiating, amplifying, processing, transmitting, re-transmitting, switching, or monitoring of telecommunications services, or Internet access service for sale. This includes such property used to upgrade cable television systems to allow for such receiving, etc. of such services.
 - Machinery, equipment, and apparatus (including parts, tools, and supplies used in connection with such machinery, equipment, and apparatus) used directly and predominantly to upgrade cable television systems so they are capable of providing digital cable television service for sale. (This exemption expires September 1, 2003.)
 - Machinery, equipment, and other tangible personal property (including parts, tools, and supplies) used by a television or radio broadcaster directly and predominantly in the production and post-production of live or recorded programs used by a broadcaster predominantly for broadcasting by the broadcaster either over-the-air or for transmission through a cable television or direct broadcast satellite system. (Examples of exempt machinery and equipment include cameras, lights, sets, costumes, and sound equipment.) This exemption also includes machinery, equipment, and other tangible personal property used by a broadcaster directly and predominantly to transmit live or recorded programs. (Examples of exempt machinery and equipment include amplifiers, transmitters, and antennas.)
- D. Installed or placed in the project in such a way that it remains tangible personal property after installation. The contractor must collect tax from its customer when selling such tangible personal property or related services to the customer, unless the customer gives the contractor an appropriate and properly completed exemption certificate.
- E. Used predominantly (more than 50%) either in farm production or in a commercial horse boarding operation, or in both, for which the customer has provided the contractor a completed ST-125, Farmer's and Commercial Horse Boarding Operator's Exemption Certificate. The exemption is allowed on tangible personal property whether or not the property is incorporated into a building or structure.
- F. Alternative fuel vehicle refueling property which is used predominantly for: (1) the storage or dispensing of alcohol, natural gas, propane, or hydrogen into the fuel tank of an alternative fuel vehicle, but only if the storage or dispensing of the fuel is at the point where such fuel is delivered into the fuel tank of such a vehicle; or (2) the recharging of an electric vehicle, but only if the property is located at the point where such vehicle is recharged. The property must be subject to an allowance for depreciation and its original use must begin with the purchaser.
- G. Machinery or equipment used directly and predominantly to control, prevent, or abate pollution or contaminants from manufacturing or industrial facilities.
- H. Incorporated into a building, structure, or real property located in the empire zone in which the qualified empire zone enterprise (QEZE) has qualified for tax benefits. The exemption is allowed on the 4% New York State tax rate and on the ¼% Metropolitan Commuter Transportation District rate. The exemption does not apply to Municipal Assistance Corporation (MAC) taxes in New York City, or to county, city, or school district taxes, unless New York City or the county, city, or school district elects the exemption. In that case, purchases are exempt from the full, combined New York State and local tax rate. See Publication 718-Q, New York State and Local Sales and Use Tax Rates for Sales to Qualified Empire Zone Enterprises (QEZE), for a listing of sales tax rates pertaining to the QEZE exemption. The customer must furnish the contractor a completed Form ST-121.6, Qualified Empire Zone Enterprise (QEZE) Exempt Purchase Certificate.

 Note: Purchases of services for resale can occur between prime contractors and subcontractors or between two subcontractors. The retail seller of the services, generally the prime contractor, must charge and collect tax on the contract price, unless the project owner gives the retail seller of the service a properly completed exemption certificate.
- J. Trash removal services purchased by a contractor and rendered in connection with a capital improvement to an exempt organization's property.

purchaser will also be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed $10,000 ($20,000 for a corporation). Other penalties may also apply.

In addition, your Certificate of Authority, allowing you to make certain tax-free purchases, may be revoked, prohibiting you from conducting any business in New York State for which a Certificate of Authority is required.

To the vendor

Do not accept this certificate unless all entries have been completed. The contractor must give you a properly completed exemption certificate no later than 90 days after delivery of the property or service; otherwise, the sale will be deemed to have been taxable at the time the transaction took place. When a certificate is received after the 90 days, both the seller (vendor) and contractor assume the burden of proving that the sale was exempt, and both may have to provide additional substantiation.

Your failure to collect sales or use tax, as a result of accepting an improperly completed exemption certificate or receiving the certificate more than 90 days after the sale, will make you personally liable for the tax plus any penalty and interest charges due.

You must keep this exemption certificate for at least three years after the due date of the last return to which it relates, or after the date when the return was filed, if later. You must also maintain a method of associating an exempt sale made to a particular customer with the exemption certificate you have on file for that customer.

Caution: You will be subject to additional penalties if you sell tangible personal property or services subject to tax, or purchase or sell tangible personal property for resale, without possessing a valid Certificate of Authority. In addition to the criminal penalties imposed under the New York State Tax Law, you will be subject to a penalty of up to $500 for the first day on which such a sale or purchase is made, plus up to $200 for each subsequent day on which such a sale or purchase is made, up to the maximum allowed.
